

THE WARRIOR TIMES

The Viking Exhibit

By Cameron Chapman

Welcome to the Carnegie Science Center where the fun happens! It is located in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

My favorite exhibit was the Viking Exhibit because it was cool and it has many interesting things like the comb, old coins, jewelry, weapons, and even real viking armor!!

They also had a really fun game called attackers and defenders and there were many cool shows and myths like "Vikings: The End of Time". There was also a viking quiz I played against my Mom and I won and she won a round too.

My favorite part was the comb because before we went there my Mom thought that the Vikings created the comb and to learn that the Vikings did create the comb was awesome, it felt super good.

You should come to the Viking Exhibit because it is fun and also a good way to end the day at the Carnegie Science Center! During your spring break you should come up here to make your life more fun, just a touch more fun!
