

THE WARRIOR TIMES

Carnegie Science Center

By Mary Fraser

The Carnegie science center was very fun. I learned lots of things and especially about your body.

The first floor outside you could go on a submarine and there were real robots! You could make the robots talk and move too. And there were all sorts of water exhibits. And lots of cool animals and bugs.

On the second floor there was lots of stuff about space and a cool replica of a small part of a spaceship. and there was a train exhibit it was super long and had i-spy questions.

On the third floor there was lots of stuff about your body, organs and intestines. You could learn about where everything goes.

On the fourth floor there was a shake shack. A shake shack is where you go inside this small room and it shakes you to show what a real earthquake is like. My favorite part of the science center is the third floor. I enjoyed learning about your body so I know what's going on inside of me. I enjoyed the science center and i think it was awesome.
